

Leylines Parts

New parts for the P76 available commercially.

A Publication of the Canberra and Districts Leyland P76 Club

New Parts Guide March 2006 Issue Four

Prepared by Damien Haas – Spare Parts Officer – ACT P76 Club

Please advise me of any new parts or companies to be added.

4 DOOR SALOON

Accessories

Auto Cables and Auto Shades (one company two names) offer new parts for the P76. They are:

- Perspex Weather Shields for drivers window
- Auto Shade (interior rear window louvres)
- Solid and Mesh Sunvisors

url: <http://www.autocables.com.au>

Carpets

Tru-fit carpets offer moulded carpets in several grades of quality (and cost) and colour.

They offer front and back separately, as well as various types of sound deadener and insulation.

url: <http://www.tru-fitcarpets.com.au>

Interior Trim

Polyweld Automotive manufacture P76 door trims. They will manufacture any colour you want. They don't have a website, but they advertise in Just Cars magazine. I called the ACT Rare Spares outlet (listed as a distributor) who quoted me $535 for 4 doors.

I am not sure if this includes the 'upper' door trim part (that metal thing).

Engine Parts

Yella Terra manufacture the following components.

LEYLAND P76 V8

Yella Terra - Ultra heavy duty road and race performance extruded aluminium rocker.

JP Pistons in South Australia manufacture pistons for the P76 V8. They also list a range of pistons under Rover, which are similar in size to the Leyland piston. Take your mechanics advice. They also list 6 cylinder pistons under Marina 1750, but state two different capacities. Anyone able to clarify this ?

P76, 4.4 Litre Terrier	JP 0676	max. oversize +040"
Marina 1750	JP 1008	1746cc/2623cc, OHV

3.5 Litre, V8	JP 0675	max. oversize +030", CR8.25:1
3.5 Litre, V8	JP 0679	max. oversize +030", CR9.35:1
3.5 Litre, V8	JP 0690	max. oversize +030", CR10.5:1

JP Performance manufacture timing chain sets, although there is no Leyland P76 set listed, the following is listed for Rover V8 and Buick/Oldsmobile V6.

JP 5984 to suit 3500 V8, Range Rover

url: <http://www.jp.com.au>

Max Wedge Performance manufacture new 4 barrel manifolds and Alloy rocker covers. I have no contact details for this company, but have seen a flyer on these products.

Mastertech Ltd - The Ring Gear Specialist. Manufactures new ring gears for the P76. A NZ company.

Kings Springs offer new coil springs for the P76.

LEYLAND 73-74 P76 (Front) KLFS-01 (Back) KLRS-02

url: <http://www.kingsprings.com>

Pedders Suspension lists the following items for the P76:

Front Shocks	8730 Comfort Gas Cartridge
Front Spring Standard	7195 Heavy Duty Coil Spring
Rear Shock	3303 Touring Black Gas Shock
	8003 Comfort Gas Shock
	GSR9034 Gas Sports Ryder
Rear Spring Standard	7196 Heavy Duty Coil Spring
Rear Polyair	12032 Polyair Rear Coil Kit

url: <http://www.pedders.com.au>

'leylandP76@gmail.com' advises that 'due to the angle that the Leyland rear shockers are working at, that an extra large oil reserve is necessary, hence standard lower grade shockers are often not up to the job. The ideal shocker he has found is from Pedders for a lowered by 2" VY SS Commodore Ute, this shocker compresses enough so that it will not break off the lower mount or punch a hole in the top of the shocker holder.

Leyland made the shocker job easy by making sure that the nuts and heads of bolts can be undone by different size spanners, my observation on problems with this job is that people try and take short cuts but honestly if you undo the necessary brackets the job is straight forward. I use a 1/2 inch impact socket with a flexidrive to access some of the bolts, I use the impact socket because it fits more snugly.

K-Mac manufacture suspension items. They offer the following products:

P76 springs in any height	$330 set 4 incl GST
Front 24mm diam anti sway bar	$180.00
Rear 20mm anti sway bar	$225

url: <http://www.k-mac.com.au>

Disc Brakes Australia or DBA manufacture new front brake discs for Leyland P76's. In the SA newsletter, Jilden writes " (the disc) is much more robust in the braking area than the old one. In fact, it is nearly twice as heavy as the original. I paid around $140 each (trade) for two"

Front brake discs (vented) - DBA part no. 068

url: <http://www.dba.com.au>

PBR International Limited Manufacture a range of brake components including P76 Master Cylinders. These are still available new and can be ordered from an automotive parts supplier, or by your brake specialist. Retail around $330

This same part suits XA/B falcons including the 4 wheel disc models, as well as the P76

Other parts including repair kits, discs and drums:

Power Steering Racks

Britton's Power Steering Services. Dave Britton used to work for TRW, the original manufacturer of the P76 power steering rack, and has a wealth of knowledge on the peculiarities of the P76 rack. He has made some modifications to the rack which stop it leaking and sending you off in directions contra to the one you desire.

Under dash ventilation tubing.

Replace that kinked and collapsed kopex tubing which hasn't fed air to your dash vents for years. Original tubing is scarce and even if NOS may not maintain its structural integrity after 30 years. A direct replacement which does not need adapters or glue is plastic ducting. When cut to length it fits original mountings perfectly, although it is less flexible than kopex tubing.

TPR ducting in 65mm diameter. $33 per metre (about two metres is required)
